

Earthday Gathering – Elmira, NY

24 - 27 April 2015

The spring gathering in the hollow along the esker at Tom Goble's house was barely audible with the sound of Spring Peepers because of the cool week-end. The temperatures were in the 40's (Upper 30's on Friday and into 50's on Sunday)

The Mastodon Open was down by the pond, which was low from the general lack of rain this spring. The five-round bale course for the animals was up along the west bank. The upper and lower courses were enjoyed by people throwing sticks with sticks. The distance throwing was conducted across the road in the grassy field next to last year's corn stubble which had not been plowed yet for the year.

Twenty-five throwers competed in the ISAC and a few of these also in the Mastodon Open and NYAA competitions.
